CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Hefore one of the largest crowds of the season at National League Park here to-day Jack Coombe, pitching for the Superbas, gave the Cubs an argument that refuted the statement that he was not as good as when he beat the Chancemen out of a world's series several years ago. Colby Jack

The comeback made by the Yankees after local fans believed they had dropped out of sight, was the most remarkable feat of last week's baseball doings. A week ago last Saturday the club dropped the double header to Philadelphia, after losing fourteen out of eighteen games in the West, which gave the team a record of four victories in a score of games. After a body blow like that it generally was believed that the world's any additional 1sis pennant hunting.

The Red Sox lost a little ground during the past week, as they won only four out of seven games. Chicago also gave some of Carrigan's boys an awful pounding. Cleveland, which held second place until Friday, got quits a kick in the shins by losing four straight games, three to New York and one to Boston. The Redmen have shown ability to come back quickly from such knocks.

The White Sox are as far removed from the Red Sox this morning as they were a week ago, as they also won four games during the week and lost three. The club saved itself from a bad week From the Red Sox this morning as they were a week ago, as they also won four games during the week and lost three. The club saved itself from a bad week by winning the last three games played. The Browns' mad rush seems to have been checked. At least Jones's men are not rushing shead as wildly as they had been. Detroit has shown improvement, due in a large measure to the fact the Tigers have had the two softest things in the East—Washington and the Athletice—as opponents.

All along the Braves have contended they don't fear the Brooklyns but the Glants. Before leaving dear old Flatbush the Brooklyns tried to get back at Boston by saying: "We are not paying any attention to Boston. The Cardinals opened the scoring in the fifth inning. All along the Braves have contended they don't fear the Brooklyns but the Glants. Before leaving dear old Flatbush the Brooklyns tried to get back at Boston by saying: "We are not paying any attention to Boston. The other teams will stop them for us. Philadelphia is the team we are watching."

That logic is beginning to work out. After winning three out of four from the Robins the Braves went out West for a cleanup, but met two unexpected defeats in St. Louis, and the Robins are now as far ahead of Stallings's bunch as they were before they started the big series and made a great running catch, shut-limits the proposed of the proposed and made a great running catch, shut-limits the series of the series and waste of the series of the s

In a tight finish Brooklyn undoubtedly would prefer Philadelphia as a rival to Boston. While the Dodgers have been docile subjects of the Braves for the past two years, the Brooklyns have had the Indian sign just as much on the Quakers. Robby's men beat the N. L.
